CALL FOR PAPERS

The Canyon Journal of Interdisciplinary Studies (CJIS) is published online three times per year through the Center for Innovation in Research and Teaching at Grand Canyon University (GCU), and highlights exemplary student and faculty research completed at GCU.

THE GOALS OF CJIS ARE:

- To encourage exchange of empirical and theoretical research among faculty and students at GCU, especially graduate students and doctoral learners.
- To provide graduate students and doctoral learners professional experience in the dissemination and publication of their work.
- To increase awareness of the range and diversity of research being conducted by faculty and students/doctoral learners at GCU.

Aligned with these goals, topics covered in CJIS Graduate Issue represent a range of methodologies, disciplines and theoretical topics.

Empirical or theoretical research articles, within any academic discipline, will be considered. Special consideration will be given to CDS Doctoral Learners and Alumni. GCU graduate students from other colleges are also encouraged to submit. Manuscripts must be supported with theoretical justification, evidence, and/or research; qualitative and quantitative inquiry methods are appropriate. Papers are subject to peer review and editorial revision in consultation with the author. To submit your manuscript for publication consideration, view the submission guidelines and link at: http://cirt.gcu.edu/CJIS/submissionguidelines.
